

Adventure Story

Bait

"Come on!" Sam shouted, the cave is just down here. "Didn't your dad say to stay away from the cave?" Jessie questioned. Then Sam got them all geared up and explained that the cave is thousands of years old so they must follow her. The other girls still were doubting Sam's sense of directions so she had told not to worry they'd be as quick as a flash. As they entered the cave one of the friends kept saying "wow" to all the old statues. The girls were having a lot of fun until they thought there was something in the murky water.

Suddenly one of the girls (Bee) gasped. Though trembling and shaking teeth she used her earphone to tell her friends she saw a shark. Of course Sam assured them that there was no shark but that didn't explain what Bee saw. Since everyone was scared they decided to head back. On the way back Lily, another girl, saw a shadow getting closer and closer, it was as quick as a bullet, speeding towards them. They screamed and ducked down letting the shark crash the entrance.

All of them started to panic and Jessie was the first to notice that the shark didn't acknowledge that they were right next to it a few moments ago. Then it clicked, the shark must of evolved down in this dark cave so it must be blind. She shared the theory and they decided that the shark was blind. The girls were trying to find a new way out when they found Sam's dad's equipment that had some sharp items. After what seemed like days they saw light. They also saw the shark. "Nobody make a sound" Sam commanded. The others nodded but as the shark swam towards Julie and a small scream slipped from Julie's lips, ~~quicker~~, quickly, Lily swam in front of her, and then... red. "No!!" Jessie

"No!" Jessie and Sam screamed as the shark left. It was too late and they had to get out of there. They swam until ~~there~~ ^{their} limbs ached, luckily they made it on a beach somewhere near home. When they got home they called Special Cave ~~diver~~ divers to kill the shark.
