Workplus – Apprenticeship Recruitment Platform

Workplus is a Northern Ireland-wide apprenticeship and early-careers recruitment platform that connects students and jobseekers with employers offering apprenticeships, including Higher-Level and Degree Apprenticeships.

What it actually does:

- Central application hub: Students create one profile and can be considered by multiple employers.
- Employer-led recruitment: Employers post apprenticeship campaigns and search the Workplus talent pool.
- Focus on higher pathways: It's commonly used for Level 4+ routes (HLAs and degree apprenticeships)
- NI-specific: Built around the Northern Ireland labour market, working alongside local colleges, universities, and employers.

The January 2026 Workplus campaign is now live and applications close on 20th February. There are opportunities across the sectors and at various levels.

Apprenticeship Opportunity – LH Steel Detailing

The advertisement is a vertical banner with a dark blue background. At the top, it says "Apprenticeship Week – We're Hiring!" in white and orange text, flanked by two white hammers. Below this is the "LH STEEL DETAILING" logo in white. The main text reads "Grab your opportunity to create designs and workable details for future mega engineering and construction projects". The central image shows a man in a blue shirt working on a computer with two monitors displaying 3D steel models, with a construction site in the background. Below the image, it says "Apprentice Steel Detailer" in large white and orange letters, followed by "Aughnacloy, Co. Tyrone". A section titled "A great opportunity to start a career in the steel & construction industry." lists three bullet points: "✓ Willingness to learn", "✓ Full training provided", and "✓ No experience required". At the bottom, it provides contact information: "Send your CV to leslie@lhsteeldetailing.com" and "07595 041310". The bottom of the banner features a row of hashtags: "#ApprenticeshipWeek #ApprenticeWanted #NowHiring #TyroneJobs #SteelDetailing".

Oxbridge Applicants

On Monday 23rd and Tuesday 24th February, Holly from Brasenose College in Oxford will be running online evening supercurricular webinars for you with some of their current student ambassadors. They understand that it can be difficult to know where to start when thinking about making a competitive application to university, so these sessions aim to introduce a range of educational activities beyond the curriculum that could act as inspiration for your own subject exploration. They will talk about how you can integrate these into your weekly routines without it becoming overwhelming, and how you could critically engage with the activities you take part in. Current students will share what they found particularly useful in their Lower Sixth, and there'll be time for a Q&A at the end.

Please sign-up using the links below. This will be useful to all Year 13 students aiming to make competitive university applications. If you are unsure which session could be most relevant to you, please email Holly at outreach@bnc.ox.ac.uk.
